

Karen Schaler

*Emmy Winning TV Correspondent/Host,
Author: Travel Therapy: Where Do You Need to Go?*

GET UPDATES FROM KAREN SCHALER

Travel Pretty: 12 Fun Travel Beauty Products

I always say there are two kinds of luggage, carry-on and lost, so I never check a bag. Since my job as a lifestyle and travel TV correspondent keeps me circling the globe I have to be camera-ready even after a gruesome 15-hour flight to China or trekking around the continent of Africa. That's why the beauty products I stuff in my carry-on are critical: I need Rambo products that take the ugly out of travel while taking up as little packing space as possible!

As a frequent flyer, I get asked a lot what kind of products I use to keep my skin and hair hydrated and healthy across multiple time zones. What products I take along depends on the trip I'm doing, time of year and destination but here are a list of my favorites that never let me down.

I'm always searching for new beauty products that can go the distance so I'd love to hear what works for you!

Somme Institute "Mobile" Travel Kit

I first had the chance to experience the Somme Institute's vitamin rich beauty products when getting one of my favorite facials at the Spa at Mandarin Oriental in New York City. The Vitamin Infusion Facial uses Somme Institute products to leave your skin feeling rejuvenated and revitalized no matter how much time you've spent stuck on a plane! To make traveling even easier, Somme Institute has come out with a super cute and effective award-winning travel kit including everything from a nourishing cleanser and exfoliating treatment pads to a serum and special sunscreen.

For more: SommeInstitute.com